Cable News SOUTH AFRICAN WINS MARATHON

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, July 14.—The marathon has been run and won, and the winner is a long, lanky Transvaal police officer no one had noticed, no one had even dreamed would have a chance at the coveted trophy. His name is K. K. McArthur and it was the first time in his life that he had ever run the marathon against others in a race. His time was 2 hours 36 minutes. He faltered as he crossed the line.

The honors of the race fell in strange places. McArthur, South Africa, won, and G. W. Giffshaw, another South African, was second, while Gaston Strobino of South Africa, N. J., was third. Twelve Americans entered the contest, the greatest of the famous Olympic games, and ten of them finished.

It was a game race from start to finish, but the South Africans had it all their own way, and the race during the last three miles was between McArthur and Giffshaw. As McArthur staggered to the tape, the crowd waiting for the finish went wild, cheering him on, yelling in the best sporting spirit for the winner and his close-following rival.

As he finished, the tall form of the winner toppled slowly forward, but was caught and supported as it reached the ground. When he came to himself, which he did within a few seconds, the Crown Prince of Sweden, who was waiting for the opportunity, stepped forward and asked to have the honor of shaking his hand. McArthur scrambled to his feet and shook hands with the prince.

Matt McGrath won the hammer throw of 160 feet 5 inches, establishing a new Olympic record for the event. D. Gillis of Canada was second, and C. C. Childs of New York third.

So far America has won 220 points, Sweden 79, England 56 and Germany 31.

DEADLY CLOUDBURST.

DENVER, Colo., July 14.—For hours today the streets of Denver were rendered impassable by a cloudburst which killed one and did one million dollars' worth of damage before it passed over the city. The rain lasted about an hour, but the results were felt much longer. At times the water rose almost four feet in the main streets of the city, and all traffic was paralyzed until it subsided. While the original estimate of one million dollars has been placed upon the damage wrought by the storm, it is likely to be much higher than that when all destruction is known.

OROZCO PREPARES TO LEAVE JUAREZ

EL PASO, Tex., July 14.—Hemmed in on all sides by advancing federal troops, and with his own army in almost open revolt against him, General Orozco is preparing to evacuate Juarez, just across the river, and flee into the mountains of Sonoma. It is reported, however, that his retreat has already been cut off by a heavy detachment from Agua Prieta.

TRAIN-WRECK VICTIMS

ROBBED BY GHOULS

CHICAGO, Ill., July 14.—Thirteen are dead and twenty-five are seriously injured as the result of an accident on the Burlington tonight. Some of the injured are likely to die from the injuries they received.

According to dispatches from the scene of the wreck, ghouls robbed the bodies of the dead and injured before the relief train reached the spot. The most hideous stories are told by survivors of the wreck.

It was shortly before midnight that the Overland to Denver was struck by a fast mail coming from the other direction. The night was misty and the dense fog settled down upon the tracks so thick that the engineer of the Overland was unable to see the lights of the block signals. He discovered this too late and was pulling back when he was struck by the mail train.

The engine of the Overland was upset and hurled from the rails. Several of the heavy steel sleepers of the train were also derailed and overturned. The mail train's locomotive was badly damaged.

The relief train crew discovered that fiends had been robbing the bodies of the dead. In almost all cases it was found that cash and jewelry known to have been in the possession of the victims had been taken. The amount stolen is said to have been large. As yet the police have no clue to the ghouls.

Among the dead was Mrs. E. G. P. Holeman, granddaughter of John Welland, a wealthy brewer of San Francisco.

BIG DEMOCRATS HOLD TALKFEST

SPRINGFIELD, N. J., July 14.—The first and most important step since the Democratic convention in Baltimore nominated Woodrow Wilson for the Presidency was taken by the Democratic leaders here yesterday, when Clark and Charles Crane of Chicago, former La Follette follower, met for a discussion of the coming campaign and the ways and means to be adopted.

It is understood that Wilson was asked to modify his views on the tariff, but refused, saying that he believes in the connection between the tariff and the higher cost of living, and that he proposes to probe the latter to the bottom if possible and will stand firm on the spirit of the Democratic platform as well as upon the letter.

Seen after the conference, which last-

SURE DID IT.

NEW YORK, July 14.—Speaking of the ouster of Senator Lorimer by the Senate yesterday, Theodore Roosevelt said tonight: "It was my fight and victory.
